

Kate Delmage
Embellish!
Biography

Kate Delmage received her BSc from Wilfred Laurier University, a BFA at NSCAD U, and studied Fashion Patterning at Ryerson University, Toronto. Kate has been immersed in the fashion business for her whole life. Kate started with a dressmaking and tailoring business in Toronto and continued that successful business for many years, tailoring in the classic couturie tradition, often including hand techniques such as pleating, embroidery, beading, braiding, and trimming.

Following that Kate returned to school studying painting and sculptures at NSCAD where she then went on to work in the film, theatre, and television fields as a costume designer, drafter, and builder, many of the productions involving period cuts and vintage sewing techniques.

Kate is both a fashion and costume designer and is skilled at many embellishment techniques such as embroidery, beading, applique, crochet, tatting, leather work, and ribbon, floral, and feather detailing. Kate also is currently teaching part-time in Textiles/Fashion at NSCAD.
